

Dear reader,

Happy Spring.

As another year flies by and graduation is approaching, we are enjoying the student's final weeks as they prepare for summer and their next adventures. It's always a great time to be on campus. From our Cicada opening to Symposiums, the President's Reception, and Graduation, the first part of May will fly by.

If you have not been to campus, stop by this summer. You will be very impressed. Our facilities team, led by Tim Graves, has done a remarkable job sprucing up the place. We are grateful for the many hours they have dedicated and those of you who have helped fund these improvements.

Thank you to those who read our newsletter and send us updates. It is a delight to hear and share what is happening in our alumni world.

We are still working hard to create your page on our website, which is taking shape. There, you can get newsletters, Transition links, and information about events, especially for our Android readers. You can click here to see all future ECOS newsletters in PDF form. Stay tuned.

Happy Trails,

Jane Ratzlaff and The Advancement and Alumni Relations Team

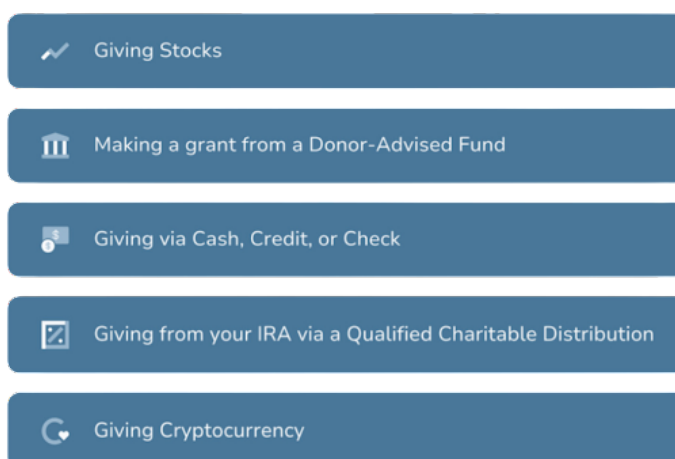

P.S. As we watched the recent path of tornadoes, I could not help thinking of alumni who may be impacted, and I wanted you to know you are in our thoughts.

Strategically Giving Back

Each program at Prescott College immerses our students in real-world experiences so they can make a difference while they study. Sustaining these efforts and supporting our close-knit community requires us to make smart financial decisions. Knowing that we must direct our resources strategically, we also want our supporters to be aware of the best ways to give.

Take the quiz below to discover how to grow your future tax savings while ensuring students have what they need to create a more just and sustainable world.

Quiz: Which type of giving can be the most powerful for you?

-  Giving Stocks
-  Making a grant from a Donor-Advised Fund
-  Giving via Cash, Credit, or Check
-  Giving from your IRA via a Qualified Charitable Distribution
-  Giving Cryptocurrency

Through creativity, empathy, adventurous hands-on experiences, and smart giving, let's forge a passionate community of changemakers determined to face our evolving world head-on.

I hope you enjoyed exploring these donation options! If you have any questions, we are here to help. Please feel free to reach out to Jane Ratzlaff at jane.ratzlaff@prescott.edu.

Donor Match and the First Inaugural Art Show of the Cicada Gallery

Tom Barry inspired three alumni and friends to match his donation, creating a grand total of $200,000 in available matching funds. Your gift right now will be doubled, and you will join your fellow alums in supporting our College.

Please act now to make a tax-deductible gift and have your donation doubled. Your gift will ensure our College continues to thrive. You can see an exclusive preview of our project portfolio here.

Prescott College Staff member Michael Riley '11

Michael recently published an article in the Journal of Outdoor Recreation, Education, & Leadership titled "The Developmental Value of Independent Student Expeditions in Outdoor Adventure Education for Emerging Adult-Aged Participants." Independent Student Expeditions remain controversial because students are not traveling with their instructors and being directly supervised by them. In this article, Michael and other colleagues set out to identify the key learnings that students attribute to this section of their NOLS course and pinpoint the mechanisms that promote student learning during this particular section. Click here to read it.

Former Prescott College Faculty member Kurt Refsnider was featured on the Adventure Journal Podcast

founding Bikepacking Roots, an organization dedicated to getting folks outside and having fun. Click here to read more.

Prescott College Faculty Members Recent Publication

Dr. Abby Yost and Dr. Emily Affolter recently co-published an article in the Oxford Review of Education that describes how we dialogically and continuously learn each other's educational values, positionalities, and experiences to develop a decolonial teaching praxis that they enact at Prescott College. Click here to see it for yourself. Congratulations.

Alumni and Prescott College Events

Past Events:

Teach-In on Palestine & Israel: Congratulations to the dedicated team of students, faculty, staff, and colleagues who helped and attended the 3-day Teach-In on Palestine and Israel, led by senior Sage Pineda. With over 150 participants, we witnessed our community show up and show out in this courageous act of learning and solidarity. We dove deep into history, personal stories, and systematic analysis over delicious shared meals thanks to cooks Nat Byhre, the Tison family, and the Agroecology class. Click here to watch the recordings of the teach-in.

Flagstaff Alumni Gathering: Thank you to everyone who attended and Brad Dimock '75 for letting us use your beautiful home to connect with our alumni on April 5. It was full of surprises and reunions as so many people got to see others that they hadn't seen in a while.

Tucson Alumni Gathering: Thank you to all our amazing alums who joined Julie Munro '85 and the Center of Nature and Place in Tucson for a nice get-together on April 17. It was a beautiful time to catch up with everyone and enjoy that Tucson weather.

Upcoming Events:

May 2 at 4:30 PM: Join us for the First Inaugural Art Show of the Cicada Gallery, featuring an afternoon of art, discussion, our specialty mocktail, "The Cicada," and to celebrate Tony Brown's birthday. Students, Staff, Faculty, Alumni, and Friends are all welcome. The gallery will be open all month so people can experience the amazing art of artists like Jan Marshall, Walt Anderson, Roger Asay / Rebecca Davis, and Tony Brown from our community.
